Contents

FROM THE ASSOCIATION v

G. Robert Koopman

THE 1958 YEARBOOK COMMITTEE ix

THE WRITERS x

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS xi

INTRODUCTION 1

Esther J. Swenson

PART ONE: Through Children's Eyes 9

CHAPTER 1 Exploring Children's Views 10

CHAPTER 2 When and Where Do School Children Notice Continuity? 14

CHAPTER 3 How Do Other People Influence Continuity for Children? 34

CHAPTER 4 How Do Children React to Continuity Situations? 48

CHAPTER 5 What Do Children See as Causes of Their Reactions? 61

PART TWO: Firmer Foundations for Continuity 83

CHAPTER 6 Exploring Foundations for Continuity 84

CHAPTER 7 Considering Implications of Child Growth, Development and Learning 89

CHAPTER 8 Considering Educational Objectives 112

CHAPTER 9 Considering Curriculum Content 128

PART THREE: Continuity in Practice 143

CHAPTER 10 Exploring Current Practices 144

CHAPTER 11 Helping Children Adjust to a New School Community 149

CHAPTER 12 Orienting Children and Youth to New School Levels 171

CHAPTER 13 Promoting Steady Progress Between Grades and Within Grades 199

CHAPTER 14 Approaching Continuity Through Understanding the Learner 215

CHAPTER 15 Approaching Continuity Through Instructional Materials 230

CHAPTER 16 Approaching Continuity Through Regional Efforts 250

PART FOUR: The End and the Beginning 259

CHAPTER 17 Looking Toward Improved Continuity 260

CHAPTER 18 A Bibliography on Articulation 271

APPENDIX A Research Procedures Used in the Study Reported in Part One of the Yearbook 282

APPENDIX B Tables for Research Study 295

ASCD BOARD OF DIRECTORS (as of November 1957) 306

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE 1957-58 306

ASCD HEADQUARTERS STAFF 307